The labore are First Class, justing popular, and prompted paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dualing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are tounded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valuelass. And white there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to muslead by publishing partial and one-sadel statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reliasive their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at loss rates than can be done by Muthai Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

Death in a School Room.

A SKETCH FROM LIFE.

Ting-a-ling-ling! went the bell on the teacher's desk of a village school room, one morning, when the studies of the earlier part of the day were about half completed. It was well understood that this was the command for silence and attention; and when these were obtained, the master spoke. He was a low, thick set man, and his name Milwaukee and Mississippi Rattroad was Lugare.

"Boys," said he, "I have a complaint entered. Last night some of you were stealing fruit from Mr. Nichols' garden. I rather think I know the thief. Tim Baker, tep up here, sir." The one to whom he spoke came forward.

He was a slight, fair looking boy, about fourteen, and his face had a laughing, good humored expression, which even the charge now preferred against him, and the stern tone and theretening look of the teacher. tone and threatening look of the teacher had not entirely dissipated. The countenance of the boy, however, was too unearthly fair for health. It had, notwithstanding its fleshy, cheerful look, a singular cast, as if some inward disease, and that a fearful one, were settled within.

As the stripling stood before that place of judgment—that place so often made the scene of heartless and coarse brutality, of timid innocence, confused helpless childhood, outraged and gentle feelings crushed, Lugare looked on him with a frown, which plainly told that he felt in no pleasant mood. Happily a worthier and more philosophical system is proving to men that schools can be governed better than by lashes, and tears and sighs. We are fast waxing toward the consummation when the old fashioned school master with his cowhide, birch rod, and his many ingenious methods of child torture will be gazed upon as a sacred memento of an ignorant, cruel and exploded doctrine. May propitious gales speed the day!
"Were you in Mr. Nichols' garden last night?" asked Imgare. "Yes, sir," answered the boy, "I was." "Well, sir, I'm glad to find you so ready with your confession. And so you thought you could do a little robbing, and enjoy yourself in a manner you ought to be ashamed to own, without being punished, did you?" "I have not been robbing," replied the boy quickly. His face was suffused, whether with resentment or fright, it was difficult to tell; "and I didn't do anything last night that I'm ashamed to own." "No impudence," exclamed the teacher passionately, as he grasped a long and heavy rattan; "give me none of your smart speeches, or f'll thrash you till you beg like a dog." The youngster's face paled a little, his lip quivered, but he did not speak.

4 And pray, sir," continued Lugare, as the outward signs of wrath disappeared from his features, "what were you about the garden for? Perhaps you only receive W. F. JOHNSON, Gen. Passenger Ag't. superintentent. ed the plunder, and had an accomplice to Michigan Central and Great Western do the most dangerous part of the job? "I first went that way because it was on my way home. I was there again afterwards, to meet an acquaintance, and-and [-but I did not go into the garden, nor take anything away from it. I would not steal, hardly to save myself from starving." "You had better stuck to that last night. You were seen, Tim Baker, to come from after seven o'clock, with a bag full of something or other over your shouder. The bag had every appearance of being filled with fruit, and this morning the melon beds were found to have been completely cleared," Like fire itself growed the cheeks of the detected lad. All the school had their eyes directed on him. The perspiration ran down his white forehead like rain drops. "Speak, sir !" said Lugare, with a loud strike of his rattan on the desk. The boy looked as though he would faint, but the unmerciful teacher, confident of having brought to light the criminal, and exulting in the idea of a severe chastisement he should be justified in inflicting, kept working himself up to a greater degree of passion. In the meantime the child seemed nardly to know what to do with himself, His tongue clove to the roof of his mouth Either he was yery much frightened, or he was actually unwell.

" Speak, I say !" again thundered Lugare and his hand grasped his rattan and towered above his head in a significant manner. "I hardly can, sir," said the poor fellow, faintly. His voice was husky and thick, fistand. "I will tell you some-some other time. Please let me go to my seat-I am not | QCEAN STEAMSHIP COMPANY'S I've found you out, sir, plainly enough, and I am satisfied that you are as precious a villain as there is in the state. But I will postpone settling with you for an hour. I shall then call you up again, and if you don't tell me the truth then, I will give you something that will make you re-member Mr. Nichols' melons for many a month to come."

Glad enough of the gracious permission, and answering not a word, the child orepi tremblingly to his bench. He fult strangey, dizzily—more as if he were in a dream than in real life, and laying his arm on the desk, bowed down his face between them. The pupils turned to their accustomed studies, for during the reign of Lugare in the village school they had been so used to violence and severe chastisement, that such things made but little interruption in the tenor of their way.

Now, while the intervening hour is passing, we will clear up this inystery of the bag, and of young Baker being under the garden fence the preceding evening. The boy's mother was a widow, and they both had to live in the very narrowest lime. its. His father had died when he was six years old, and little Tim was left a sickly, emuciated infant, whom no one expected to live many months. To the surprise of all. however, the poor child kept alive, and seemed to recover his strength, as he certainly did his size and good looks. This was owing to the kind offices of an eminent physician who had a country seat in the neighborhood, and who had been interested in the widow's little family. Tim, the physician said, might outgrow his disease, but everything was uncertain. It was a mysterious and haffling malady, and it would not be wonderful if he should, in some moment of apparent good health, 1. suddenly taken away. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but fowequals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklym—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated bolow par, and are sery way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and limbig, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital tarket the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Musual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

A SKETCH FROM LIFE.

Ting-a-ling-ling! went the bell on the teacher's desk of a village school room, one morning, when the studies of the earlier part of the day were about half completed. was well understood that this was the command for silence and attention; and when these were obtained, the master spoke. He was a low, thick set man, and his name was Lugare. "Boys," said he, "I have a complaint entered. Last night some of you were stealing fruit from Mr. Nichols' garden. I rather think I know the thief. "Tim Baker, step up here, sir."

The one to whom he spoke came forward. He was a slight, fair looking boy, about fourteen, and his face had a laughing, good humored expression, which even the charge now preferred against him, and the stern tone and threatening look of the teacher had not entirely dissipated. The countenance of the boy, however, was too unearthly fair for health. It had, notwithstanding its fleshy, cheerful look, a singular cast, as if some inward disease, and that a fearful one, were settled within.

As the stripling stood before that place of judgment-that place so often made the scene of heartless and coarse brutality, of timid innocence, confused helpless childhood, outraged and gentle feelings crushed, Lugare looked on him with a frown, which plainly told that he felt in no pleasant mood. Happily a worthier and more philosophical system is proving to men that schools can be governed better than by lashes, and tears and sighs. We are fast waxing toward the consummation when the old fashioned school master with his cowhide, birch rod, and his many ingenious methods of child-torture will be gazed upon as a sacred memento of an ignorant, cruel and exploded doctrine. May propi-tious gales speed the day!

"Were you in Mr. Nichols' garden last night?" asked Lugare. "Yes, sir," answered the boy, "I was." "Well, sir, I'm glad to find you so ready "Well, str, I'm glad to find you so ready with your confession. And so you thought you could do a little robbing, and enjoy yourself in a manner you ought to be ashamed to own, without heing punished, did you?"

"I have not been robbing," replied the boy quickly. His face was suffused, whether the punished of the boy didn't was difficult. er with resentment or fright, it was difficult to tell; "and I didn't do anything last night that I'm ashamed to own." "No impudence," exclaimed the teacher passionately, as he grasped a long and heavy rattan; "give me none of your smart speech-es, or I'll thrash you till you beg like a dog." The youngster's face paled a little, his lip quivered, but he did not speak.

"And pray, sir," continued Lugare, as the outward signs of wrath disappeared from his features, "what were you about the garden for? Perhaps you only receiv-9,000 to 10,000. had every appearance of being filled with fruit, and this morning the melon beds were Like fire itself growed the cheeks of the detected lad. All the school had their eyes directed on him. The perspiration ran down his white forehead like rain drops.

"Speak, sir!" said Lugare, with a loud strike of his rattan on the deak. The boy looked as though he would faint, ing brought to light the criminal, and exulting in the idea of a severe chastisement he should be justified in inflicting, kept working himself up to a greater degree of passion. In the meantime the child seemed hardly to know what to do with himself. His tongue clove to the roof of his mouth. Either he was very much frightened, or he was actually nawell.

"Speak, I say!" again thundered Lugare, and his hand grasped his ration and towered above his head in a significant manner, "I hardly can, sir," said the poor fellow, faintly. His voice was husky and thick, "I will tell you some—some other time. Please let me go to my seat-I am not

"O yes, that's very likely," and Mr. Lugare bulged out nose and cheek with contempt. "Do you think to make me believe your lies? I've found you ont, sir, plainly enough, and I am satisfied that you are as precious a villain as there is in the state. But I will postpone settling with you for an hour. I shall then call you up again, and if you don't tell me the truth then, I will give you something that will make you re-member Mr. Nichols' melons for many a month to come." Glad enough of the gracious permission, and answering not a word, the child crept tremblingly to his bench. He falt strange-ly, dizzily—more as if he were in a dream-than in real life, and laying his arm on the desk, bowed down his face between them. The pupils turned to their accustomed studies, for during the reign of Lugare in the village school they had been so used to violence and severe chastisement, that such things made but little interruption in the enor of their way.

Now, while the intervening hour is passing, we will clear up this mystery of the bag, and of young Baker being under the The boy's mother was a widow, and they both had to live in the very narrowest lime its. His father had died when he was six years old, and little Tim was left a sickly, emaciated infant, whom no one expected to ive many months. To the surprise of all, the poor child kept alive, and seemed to recover his strength, as he ceitainly did his size and good looks.

This was owing to the kind offices of an emineut physician who had a country seat n the neighborhood, and who had been interested in the widow's little family. the physician said, might outgrow his dis ease, but everything was uncertain. It was a mysterious and baffling malady, and it would not be wonderful if he should, in some moment of apparent good health, lesuddenly taken away. The poor widow was in a continual strike of uneasiness, but several years had now elapsed, and none of the impending evils had fallen on the boy's head. His mother seemed to feel confident that he would live and be a shield and honor to her old age. The two struggled on together, mutually happy in each other, and enduring much of poverty and discomfort, each for the other's sake. [Concluded to-morrow.] labadian di albasia

All the evidences of public opinion at that day seem to indicate that this compromise had become canonical in the hearts of the American people as a secret thing, which no rathless hand would ever be reckless enough to distab!

JANESVILLE, Wis., July 10th, 1860. DEAR SIR:—I shall be happy to meet you at my office, on Friday, the 17th inst., at 2 o'clock r. P. S .- I am ready for the block.

As a general thing we are opposed to of. fice holders interfering in elections, and this invitation of our city postmaster to his brethren in the country to form a political organization does not strike us as being in the very best taste. But the practice of the democratic party for years has been so different, we presume very few will be shocked at the proposition. The response of Citizen Hodson does not seem to be of the most cordial kind. Although the letter of Postmaster Miller says nothing about money, Hodson evidently suspects that he is to be bled, and immediately begins to calculate how much of the vital fluid can be spared without exhaustion taking place in his pocket. From the readiness with which he apprehends the object of this lettance; growing bolder, while contemplating asked to aid a rich Janesville postmaster, who receives a large salary, to make himself conspicuous at Washington, Hodson boils over with indignation, and absolutely rebels. Hear him proclaim his independence-" therefore, you may count me out of the list of fawning, sycophantic, administration office holders." Good for Hodson! That is a sentiment worthy a place on a political banner, at the next Douglas convention in this state. It is the only specimen of manly independence we have seen among government office holders for years. a half further south since "my great prin-The sign is an excellent one. Douglas vs. Douglas and the Missouri Compromise.

From Douglas' Speech in Springfield, 111., 1850. From Dougles' Speech in Springfield, III., 1850.
The Missouri Compromise had its origin in the hearts of all particular men who desired to preserve and perpetuate the blessings of our glorious. Unin-on origin akin to that of the constitution of the Luited States, conceived in the same spirit of fraternal affection, and calculated to remove forever the only danger which threatens at some distant day, to sever the social bond of Union—All the evidences of public opinion at that day seem to indicate that this compromise had become canonized in the hearts of the American people as a sacred thing, which no ruddless hand would ever be recibles enough in distarb."

From Daugles' Speech at Providence, Ame. 3, 1860.

From Douglas' Speech at Providence, Aug. 3, 1860. My friend over there—friend or enony, as the case may be—wants to know something about the Missouri Compromise. [Cheera] I have not the slightest objection to telling him all he desires to know upon that question. I—BROUGHT IN THE BILL TO REPEAL THE MISSOURI RESTRICTION.

How Non-Intervention Works.

"I believe that it is the right of the south to demand and the duty of congress to extend, protection of persons and property of every kind (including stanes) in the ter-ritories during their territorial state!"—Herschel V. Johnson.

From Denglas' Speech in the Senate, May 16, 1860. From Douglas' Speech in the Senate, May 16, 1880.

"It is part of the history of the country that under this doctrine of non-intervention, this doctrine that you dell ht to call squatter sovereignty, the people of New Mexico have introduced and protected slavery in the whole of that territory. Under this doctrine they have conserted a tract of free territory into slave territory, more than face time the six of the slate of New York.—
Under this doctrine slavery has been extended from the Kio Grande to the Guif of Culifornia, and from the line of the republic of Mexico, not only up to 86 deg. So min., but up to 85 deg.—giving you a degree and a half more slave territory than you ever claimed."

Interesting Correspondence.

We copy the following correspondence between two government officials, residing in this county, from the Milwaukee News:

JANESVILLE, Wis., July 10th, 1860.
DEAR SIR:—I shall be happy to meet you at my office, on Friday, the 17th inst., at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of consultation, with a view to a county organization of the friends of Breckinridge and Lane, and such other acts as may be suggested for the present and future success and welfare of the National democratic party and the Union.
Your obt't serv't, EZRA MILLER.

To Mr. WM. Hodson. The following is a copy of the reply of the worthy sage of Turtle Creek: SHOPIERE, Aug. 11th, 1860.

COL. E. MILLER: DEAR SIR:-I have just received your printed circular, requesting me to meet you at your Post Office in Janesville, in order to devise means for the support of Breckin ridge and Lane. In reply to that circular, allow me to say, that I have, with the aid of several of my friends, computed my salary, and find that it amounts to just thirty-three cents per day. On such small pay I do not feel at all able to support Messrs. Breckinridge and Lane, more particularly, as my pay will not support me. I wish to remind you, that when I accepted the office of Postmaster of Shopiere, I did not sell myself to the Administration for 33 cents per day. Therefore, you may count me out of the me; all others are against me." list of fawning, sycophantic, administration office holders. Had I been Postmaster at Janesville, I do not think I should have in-terfered with the poor Postmasters in my district, but should have adopted the policy of non-intervention. I am, my dear sir, Yours, very respectfully. WM. HODSON, Postmaster, Shopiere. P. S .- I am ready for the block.

As a general thing we are opposed to of. fice holders interfering in elections, and this invitation of our city postmaster to his brethren in the country to form a political organization does not strike us as being in the very best taste. But the practice of the democratic party for years has been so different, we presume very few will be shocked at the proposition. The response of Citizen Hodson does not seem to be of the most cordial kind. Although the letter of Postmaster Miller says nothing about money, Hodson evidently suspects that he is to be bled, and immediately begins to calculate how much of the vital fluid can be spared without exhaustion taking place in his pocket. From the readiness with which he apprehends the object of this letter we presume it is not the first time he has been called upon to make up a purse for electioneering purposes. He has been willing heretofore to "bleed and die" for his party, as all good democratic postmasters are expected to do, but now he cannot do it. His salary is small and it is unreasonable to ask him to divide the small pittance; growing bolder, while contemplating the fate of a "poor postmaster" who gots only thirty three cents a day, and who is asked to aid a rich Janesville postmaster, who receives a large salary, to make himself conspicuous at Washington, Hodson boils over with indignation, and absolutely rebels. Hear him proclaim his independence-" therefore, you may count me out vant. It turns out that this letter is a forof the list of fawning, sycophantic, admin. gery, it having been written by a Philadelistration office holders." Good for Hodson! That is a sentiment worthy a place on a The Tribune grabbed the bait and was political banner, at the next Douglas con- caught. vention in this state. It is the only specimen of manly independence we have seen among government office holders for years. The sign is an excellent one. OPPOSITION TO BLONDIN .- The Niagara Falls Gazette says that one Signor Farini proposes to give an opposition rope-walking exhibition at the Falls on the 15th, the same day on which Blondin next walks .--He, Signor F., has selected a place near the outlet of the hydraulic canal, a short distauce below the Niagara House, where the river is about two thousand feet wide-the widest place between the Falls and Lewiston-and where the banks are also very high. It is stated that he will walk from the American side at 4 P. M., and during the crossing will stand on his head, lie down on the rope, hang by his feet, etc. On returning he will draw a rope up from the steamer Maid of the Mist, fasten it to his cable, and descend it head foremost to the deck of the steamer, a little distance of perhaps one hundred and fifty feet, and then return to his cable by the same route.

GAS IN THE CARS .- On Thursday evening last, says the Utica Herald, we saw one of the cars of a passenger train on the New York Central road brilliantly lighted with gas burners. The gas was contained in a reservoir under the car, which we suppose is designed to be filled at the two ends of the road-one filling answering for a trip. With two burners the car was so well lighted that one could read in any part of it. The lighting was designed simply as an experiment.

COMPLETION OF THE NEW CUSTOM HOUSE AT CHICAGO.-Mr. Osborne, the contractor for the building of the new Custom House, Post Office, United States court rooms, etc. having fully completed his contract, has delivered the keys of the finished building to the representative of the Federal Government here, says the Journal, and taken his departure for his home in Rochester. The new and elegant edifice may be considered then, finally and fully completed, and the occupancy of it by the Post Office, Custom House employees, and Federal courts, will soon take place. This is one of the most elegant buildings in the United States.

SINGULAR MARRIAGES .-- From the following anecdotes related by a correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal, it appears that the marriage customs of Owen county, Indiana, are not a little peculiar:

In Owen county, a man eighty years of age married, as his third or fourth successive wife, a girl of about seventeen summers. The next Sabbath they entered church together; the young bride, as the eyes of her youthful feminine associates in the congregation turned upon her, dropped herself, exceedingly abashed, into a seat near the venerable sire, to show his indussement of his new wife's administration, renewed the chastisement of his daughter to inhumanity. An indictment has been found against him by the grand jury. He and his youthful partner have since disagreed, and a final

A neat and pretty maiden in Sullivan county, the heiress of a handsome property, made a mutual matrimonial agreement with a homely, penniless, awkward and uncultivated youth of eighteen, but as the time frew near for the consummation of their drew near for the consummation of their plighted vows, the prospective groom in-formed his intended as follows: "My fath-er says I sha'n't marry unless I first pay him for my time!" This nawelcome intelligence did not dispirit the fair maiden. With that perseverance which distinguishes woman's heart, she immediately authorized her swain to learn of his father what amount would pay for his time. The sum required was $200; the money was by her advanced, the father was satisfied, the purchase made and the marriage ceremony was performed. Since which time a marked improvement personally, morally and intellectually is visible in the one "bought with a price."

A London paper states that on the 1st of September last, at 11h, 18m a. m., a distinguished astronomer, Mr. Carrington, had directed his telescope to the sun, and was engaged in observing its spots, when suddenly two intensely luminous bodies burst into view on its surface. They moved side by side through a space of 35,000 miles. first increasing in brightness, then fading away; in five minutes they had vanished. They did not alter the shape of a group of large black spots which lay directly in their paths. Momentary as this remarkable phenomenor was, it was fortunately witnessed and confirmed, as to one of the bright lights seen by another observer, Mr. Hodgson, at Highgate, who, by a happy coincidence, had also his telescope directed to the great luminary at the same instant. It may be, therefore, that these two gentlemen have actually witnessed the process of feeding the sun by meteoric matter. But, however this may be, it is a remarkable circumstance that the observations of Kew show that on the very day, and at the very hour and minute of this unexpected and curious phenomenon, a moderate but magnetic disturbance took place; and a storm of great distur-bance of the magnetic elements occurred four hours after midnight, extending to the Southern Hemisphere. Thus is exhibited a seeming connection between magnetic phenomena and certain actions taking place on the sun's disk-a connection which Schwabe, compared with the magnetical records of our colonial observatories, had already rendered nearly certain. PRAIRIE CHICKENS .- Hunters report prairie chickens very scarce this season.

From the Hartford Press, Aug. 7 Stephen and His Anxious Mother.

Stephen was anxious to see his mother His mother was anxious to see Stephen The dutiful boy advertised it in the public prints that he was on his way to see his mother. He started from the city of New naturally came to New Haven, Guilford, and Hartford on his way, and at the latter place he was "betrayed into a speech." Still bent on the maternal pilgrimage, he goes towards Boston, attracted by a tive of his wife. It was a case of relative attraction. On his way, at Worcester, some Judas "betrayed" him into a speech. At Boston, betraved again. Now, however, he started towards his mother. At Albany, seeking to pass through there as a private man, astonished at the magnificent demonstrations, the unexpected reception (like the one at Hartford) he was "betrayed" into a speech in which he declared he was on his way to see his mother. From here the pilgrim soon reaches Saratoga. Here he lays aside politics, thinks of his long unseen mother whom he is about to visit, and sinks into the genial pleasures of the place. Previous to this we ought to mention, he was "betray ed" into a speech. Full of thoughts of his mother, he starts in a northeast direction and lands at Rutland, the home of his youth. Owing to the wholly unexpected arrival in that place, so hallowed, &c-he-well-is" betrayed" into a speech. Full of pent-up affection, he can no longer restrain himself, but goes to Bellows Falls. Amid the bellowing of the populace and sobs of Stephen, he is decieved, deluded, imposed on-in fact "betrayed" speech. He flees to the north, he labors at empire.]
White River Junction. What a junction, what a conjunction in point of fact was there! Stephen was "betrayed" into a speech. Cutting his filial stick in a south east direction, he informs us at Concord that he is visiting New England to look up-on the grave of a relative. Sad Stephen, how skillfully his anxiety to see his mother is disgnised. This statement was made in the course of some extended remarks which, in point of fact, "hetaryed" Æneas into a speech at this place. At Manchester, at Nashna, at Providence, still seeking the maternal embrace that still receded, he is still surprised and still " betrayed"-but why repeat the sad details?

Stephen, Stephen, who seems unable to cut his broad and cheese even, is next seen at a clam-bake at Rocky Point; far, far from mother, relatives or graves, on this strictly private tour to see his mother, Stephen, we say, sinks the maternal for a season, and allows one hundred and fifty bushals of baked clams and thirty thousand people to "betray" him into a speech-a brief one of an hour and a half.

Look at the map of New England. Where do you think Stephen is now? way down on the rocky end of Rhode Island, at Newport, kicking up his truant heels by the great ocean, as much as to say that, having travelled all over New England on the strength of her, he don't care a brass farthin' for his maternal!

And yet, by-and-by, when he gets recuperated and wants to stort on another tour, we shall hear his low, sweet voice mingling with the roar of the suif down there by the sounding sear softly singing-

Wake, and call me early— Call me early, mother dear

DANGER OF IMPERFECT LIGHTNING RODS. -A writer in the New York Post, after decribing the effects of the lightning during recent thunder-storm, makes some very sensible suggestions:

In our occasional trips to the various sub-urbs of the city, we have observed hundreds of buildings with lightning rods, which, in our judgment, render them less secure than they would be without any rods. Upon in nury we find them to be somebody's patent neulators and patent points, and patently painted, sold by means of certificates and recommendations, as a specific against lightning, just like the quack medicines which heal all diseases,

The time is, perhaps, coming, when the people will learn by experience, if in no other way, that the exact adaptation of the rod to the nature and degree of the expesure of the building as regards lightning, is absolutely essential to its efficacy.

The services of an "expert mechanic" may be very properly and usefully employed in the erection of the rods, but the deci sion as to their mode of construction and location upon the building demands, in the scientific judgment and experience. A mistake in this particular increases the danger, as the frequent failures of lightning rods fully demonstrate.

Lightning rods should be examined every senson so as to detect and remedy any defects which time may have rendered apparent. They should be kept free from paint, and if any alteration or addition to the building is made, they should be examined by a competent person to decide whether hey require adjustment to conform to the iltered condition of the building.

If the lightning rod is correctly applied in the first place, and kept in order, it may be implicitly relied upon as a complete safeguard from lightning.

How Indiana is Going .- At the openng of the present campaign, we regarded Indiana as a somewhat doubtful state, though we had strong hopes of a republican triumph. With the progress of the canvass, however, it has become more and more evident that the republicans would elect their state tloket in October, and give a majority for Lincoln and Hamlin in November.
This result is now as certain as any political calculation can be. In southern Indiana a remarkable change has been going on, and the vote there will astonish those people who look for any indication of its character deeply felt, and her virtues long remembered, while her to the returns of two and four years ago.— sudden death is a solemo warning to make that preper-We could name one of the "pocket" counties, in particular, in which, according to reliable information, the vote will be almost as one sided for Lincoln as it was four years

We have presidential vote four years ago. the details before us, giving in these coun-ties a total majority for Lincoln of 8,500. In the same counties four years ago, Fre mont's majority was only 5,385. Republican gain, 3,115. These are facts, not conjectures. It is believed that every county north of the National Road will give a majority for Lincoln. Should the balance of the state give the same relative gains as the counties to which we refer, the majority in Indiana will exceed 30,000. Half that will answer every practical purpose.-Cineinnati Gazette.

GREAT COLT .- E. Swan, of Worcester has a three year old colt, iron grey, that bids fair to become a mastodon. He is 17 hands high and weighs over 1400 fbs and for so large an animal is gaited and nimble. Mr. Swan thinks at six years old he can be made to weigh at least 2000. He is large boned and short jointed, and if his body should ever be propositioned to his legs, it would puzzle a teamster to find a lead for him. Such horses would be particularly valuable in the vicinity of tell bridges where the charges are so much a load rather than by the ton. The man who has a hig herse gets the worth of his money, while the pony driver goes several times to accomplish the same business. Give us a big horse and a wholesale business.

ST. JOSEPH, Aug. 14. It is reported, under date of Denver City, August 7th, that the U. S. troops from forts Kearney and Eiley had a buttle with the Kiowas near Bent's fort about the 24th of July. They demanded of the Indians those who had committed the late outrages, and on their refusal to give them up, attacked them. Five Kiowas were killed, and thirteen taken prisoners. The latter were left at the fort, and the troops proceeded down the Arkansas. But Bent, tack, sent a messenger, an old Frenchman, several years in his employ, to recall the The Indians attacked and scalped troops. this messenger, leaving him for dead, but he managed to return to the fort, and will probably recover. Bent having but a small supply of provisions, and fearing trouble, released the prisoners.

The Arapahoes and Cheyennes, who were lately in Denver, are now encamped about the fort, and promise to protect Bent from the Kiowas.

Sr. Louis, Aug. 14. The Bulletin publishes a card signed by Senators Polk and Green, declaring their suggestion of a state convention, in which the friends of Judge Douglas should be represented as well as democrats adhering to he principles enunciated in the platform adopted by the Breckinridge national convention, has been rendered nugatory by the opposition of the friends of Douglas, and therefore submit to those democratic voters standing on the Missouri platform, who are resolved to defend and maintain the princi ples enunciated in the Breckinridge national convention, the necessity of perfecting the organization of the party, pending the presidential canvass in the state, energetically, successfully, and respectfully, propose o assemble in state convention. James M. Hughes, member of the democratic nation al committee for this state, concurring in this policy proposed by Senators Green and Polk, has called a convention to be held at Jefferson City, on Thursday, the 20th day of September, which convention will revise the electoral ticket, and take such further action as the interests of the party may re-

GREAT DOUGLAS DEMONSTRATION!-Today was to have been a great day for the Douglas democracy of Janesville-a day in which the invincible strength of the party was to be shown, and the enthusiasm for its "squatter" leader manifested. For several days a great mass meeting has been advertised at Monroe, and a special train engaged, at half fare, to carry out the detion on the republican citadel of "little traveler might have been seen wending his way slowly to the" depot, and as time progressed, accessions were made to the louely wayfarer. At half-past 9 o'clock, (the train for Monroe having been advertised to start st 8.45) the Madison train came steaming in with two passenger cars and four passengers; of these four, three were from Mil. enlicoes, and other textile fabrics, & i natton, and of these three, two were the post masters in that town, and one had availed supposed from her dress to be a cabin passhimself of the half-fare rate to visit Monroe

Thirteen persons, we are informed, had previously collected here, from abroad, to of fortunes made in securing goods from attend the meeting, including several speakears, and A. F. Pratt, we suppose in the capacity of reporter for the Milwaukee News. A part of these left last night, and the rest helped to swell the crowd this morning. In addition to these sixteen individuals, on business. The other was an eastern

we are told by a gentleman who made the count as the immense crowd entered the having agents and patrons among the best business men cars, that 25 residents of Janesville started for Monroe, making a grand total of fortyone for the great demonstration. In these twenty-five were several minors, and some adults who combined a business trip with equally distributed, would have given four and one tenth person to each car. Among the delegation we noticed Judge Crawford of Mineral Point, Joshua Ladue of Milwaukee, A. F. Pratt of Waukesha, Wm. I., Mitchell, Isaac Woodle and James Neil of this city, whom, on general principles, we assign as speakers to the meeting. Jerry Moriarty was doing better than an auction business in "selling" the crowd Lincoln and Hamlin medals. Among his victims was one of the," Checiable Brothers," (Mi chael McKey,) who was unconsciously sporting in a button hole of his vest a republican emblem, and Judge Crawford had a narrow escape.

The progress and accumulations of the train we have not heard reported; but we suppose a relatively large number was added at Bass Creek, Hohenshelt's, Juda, and intermediate stations. A personal friends, we wish these excursionists a pleasant trip, and hope ample accommodations have been made for their reception and entertainment. Judging from the indications we have noticed, the meeting has been an eminent success!

WIDE AWAKES .- There will be a meeting of the Wide Awakes at the Court Room this evening, for drill. We trust there will be a general attendance.

We desire to speak a word of encouragement to our Wide-Awake company. We saw several thousand Wide-Awakes at Springfield, and no company was superior to ours in any respect, while very few of them were equal in drill and the precision of their movements on parade. We have the best company in the state now, and we can easily have the best in the northwest if

The Hanvest is ended, and the crops have been secured in excellent order. The threshing machines have commenced their work. In nearly every instance, so far as | store. Barley neglected. Timothy seed was quite nowe have heard, the yield is greater than expected. We hear of instances of 25, 30 and even 40 bushels to the acre. There is scarcely a doubt that Rock county has raised this year 2,000,000 bushels of wheat.

The wheat in the vicinity of Engle, Waukesha county, is yielding much better than was most favorably anticipated. One field of 12 acres (club) yielded 340 bushels, being 233 bushels to the acre. Another field of fyte yielded 25 bushels. Still another field of 14 acres, in the town of Troy, yielded 532 hushels, averaging 38 bushels to the acre. Oats are yielding 50 and 60 bushels to the acre. So says a correspondent of the Wisconsin.

Archbishop Hughes announces the cessation of work on the new cathedral, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Fiftieth street, New York, on account of a lack of funds.

Five negroes are counted in the south as equal to three white men in apportioning members of congress. If slaves are nothing but property, why should not the horses and cattle of the north he counted also? It is because the constitution gives this advantage to the property of the south. It is represented while ours is not. Is it good policy to encourage the spread of this kind of property over new territories?

There will probably be a great Wide tournament at Chicago before the compaign closes. Such a gathering from the northwest would be a grand display and would be worth a long journey to witness.

following paragraph appears, which was originally printed in the English Quarterly Review, in March, 1825: We are not advocates for visionary pro-

What can be more palpably absurd and ridiculous than the prospect held out of locomtives travelling luice as mocracy of the state to make a demonstra fust as stage conches? We should as soon expect the people of Woolwich to suffer greve's ricachet rockets, as to put themselves at the mercy of such a machine, going at such a rate. Diving is still going on near the wreck

GREAT DOUGLAS DEMONSTRATION !- Today was to have been a great day for the Douglas democracy of Janesville-a day in which the invincible strength of the party was to be shown, and the enthusiasm for its "squatter" leader manifested. For several days a great mass meeting has been advertised at Monroe, and a special train engaged, at half fare, to carry out the democracy of the state to make a demonstration on the republican citadel of "little Green." Soon after 7 o'clock "a solitary traveler might have been seen wending his way slowly to the" depot, and as time progressed, accessions were made to the lonely wayfarer. At half-past 9 o'clock, (the train for Monroe having been advertised to start at 3.45) the Madison train came steaming in with two passenger cars and four passton, and of these three, two were the postmasters in that town, and one had availed

Thirteen persons, we are informed, had ears, and A. F. Pratt, we suppose in the capacity of reporter for the Milwaukee News. A part of these left last night, and the rest helped to swell the crowd this morning. In addition to these sixteen individuals, we are told by a gentleman who made the count as the immense crowd entered the cars, that 25 residents of Janesville started for Monroe, making a grand total of fortyone for the great demonstration. In these twenty-five were several minors, and some adults who combined a business trip with their political pilgrimage. Ten passenger equally distributed, would have given four and one tenth person to each car. Among the delegation we noticed Judge Crawford of Mineral Point, Joshua Ladue of Milwankee, A. F. Pratt of Wankesha, Wm. L. Mitchell, Isaac Woodle and James Neil of this city, whom, on general principles, we assign as speakers to the meeting. Jerry Moriarty was doing better than an auction business in "selling" the crowd Lincoln and Hamlin medals. Among his victims was one of the," Checrable Brothers," (Mi chael McKey,) who was unconsciously sporting in a button hole of his vest a republican emblem, and Judge Crawford had a narrow escape.

The progress and accumulations of the train we have not heard reported; but we suppose a relatively large number was added at Bass Creek, Hohenshelt's, Juda, and intermediate stations.

A personal friends, we wish these excurcionists a pleasant trip, and hope ample accommodations have been made for their reception and entertainment. Judging from the indications we have noticed, the meetng has been an eminent success!

WIDE AWAKES .- There will be a meeting of the Wide Awakes at the Court Room this evening, for drill. We trust there will be a general attendance.

We desire to speak a word of encouragement to our Wide-Awake company. We saw several thousand Wide-Awakes at Springfield, and no company was superior to ours in any respect, while very few of them were equal in drill and the precision of their movements on parade. We have the best company in the state now, and we can easily have the best in the northwest if

The Harvest is ended, and the crops have been secured in excellent order. The threshing machines have commenced their work. In nearly every instance, so far as we have heard, the yield is greater than expected. We hear of instances of 25, 30 and even 40 bushels to the acre. There is scarcely a doubt that Rock county has raised this year 2,000,000 bushels of wheat.

The wheat in the vicinity of Eagle Waukesha county, is yielding much better than was most favorably anticipated. One field of 12 acres (club) yielded 340 bushels, being 233 bushels to the acre. Another field of syse yielded 25 bushels. Still another field of 14 acres, in the town of Troy, vielded 532 bushels, averaging 33 bushels to the acre. Oats are yielding 50 and 60 bushels to the acre. So says a correspondeat of the Wisconsin.

Archbishop Hughes announces the cessation of work on the new cathedral, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Fiftieth street, New York, on account of a lack of funds.

A Rhode Island paper speaking of the diminutive stature of Douglas, says the "people like him in spite of his physic' (physique.)

Five negroes are counted in the south as equal to three white men in apportioning members of congress. If slaves are nothing but property, why should not the horses and cattle of the north be counted also? It is because the constitution gives this advantage to the property of the south. It is represented while ours is not. As it good policy to encourage the spread of this kind of property over new territories?

There will probably be a great Wide Awake tournament at Chicago before the eampaign closes. Such a gathering from campaign closes. Such a gathering from the northwest would be a grand display and would be worth a long journey to witness.

ATTENTION Wide Awakes!

There will be a meeting of the Wide Awakes this evening, for special business and drill. Let every member appear in full uniform, and be at the hall at precisely half FIFTY PER CENT SAVED pasi seven.

A. B. McLEAN, Captain.

J. C. Underwood, Esq., the pioneer of republicanism in Virginia, is in Chicago, in behalf of the republican national committee, making arrangements for the circulation of effective campaign documents.

It is reported that there is trouble about the accounts of Jacob Forney, late superintendent of Indian affairs. It has not yet transpired whether or not he will turn out a defaulter. A good many of Buchanan's office holders turn out mean fellows, if not Ith of March next.

THOSE PROPHETS OF OLD .- How rich the following paragraph appears, which was originally printed in the English Quarterly Review, in March, 1825:

We are not advocates for visionary proiects that interfere with useful establish ments. We scout the idea of a railroad as impracticable! What can be more palpa-bly absurd and ridiculous than the prospect held out of locomtives travelling twice as fast as stage coaches? We should as soon expect the people of Woolwich to suffer themselves to be fired off upon one of congreve's ricachet rockets, as to put themselves at the mercy of such a machine, go ing at such a rate.

Diving is still going on near the wreck of the steamer Hungarian, off Cape Sable. On a recent day the grapple brought up a part of one of the steamer's boats, wound around with broadcloths, silks, gi-,h. . s engers; of these four, three were from Mil. | calicoes, and other textile fabrics, en mated to weigh ten tons. Upon taking this snarl apart, the corpse of a lady was found, supposed from her dress to be a cabin passhimself of the half-fare rate to visit Monroe | enger. Some of her hair remained, and on business. The other was an eastern several pieces of clothing covered her remains, but nothing was found to give the least clue to her name. She was buried near the church on the island. The reports previously collected here, from abroad, to of fortunes made in securing goods from attend the meeting, including several speak. The cxpenses of operation are large, and all the goods are in deep water, at a great distance from the wreck.

While duty demands that men should insure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Confident that our success ha been more than equal to that of the most "unprecedent cars left the depot, and the delegation, if | ed," we would cordially lavite all our citizens to call at the milice, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, and examine for themselves. COMMERCIAL.

fanosville Wholesale Market. Reported for the Janesville Gazette, BUMP & GRAY. GRAIN AND PRODUCE DEALERS.

JANESVILLE, August 16, 1860. Receipts of wheat were about the same to-day as yes-terday, and under more favorable news from the lake shore markets, buyers raised their views 1@2c per bushel on shipping grades. The range being from 70 to 721/2. Milling spring was in good demand at previous quot tions. No change in coarse grains.

We make up prices as follows:
WHEAT—white winter none coming forward; good to choice milling spring 75a80; common to fair shipping 70a721/g.

OATS-good home demand at 20a22c per bushel. RYE-quotable at 40a45 per 60 lbs. None coming

BARLEY-ranges from 25a30c per 50 lbs., for common to fair.

POTATOES-plenty at 30a40 per bushel for good to BUTTER-plenty at 11a13.

EGGS—more plenty at 7071/gc per dozen. HIDES—Green, 5 to 51/4; Dry, salted, 10; Dry, filnt, FLOUR-spring at retail, 2.75, winter, 3.50, POULTRY-chickens, 6a7; turkeys, 7a8. WOOL—ranges at 25a40c per pound for common best clips, with but very little comming forward.

Chicago Market. Wednesday evening, August 15.

Wheat market heavy and prices declined about 1c, but under an active demand by shippers, the market towards the close rallied slightly, and closed firm, with considerable inquiry by speculators. Sales amount to about 125,000 bushels at 85a87 1/40 for No 1 apring, 80a 82c for No 2 spring, and 74a75c for rejected. Winter wheat was in good demand and firm, with limited trans actions at 1,00 for No 1 red and 94c for No 2 red. Oats declined about 2c, and were heavy at the close. About 25,000 bushels were sold at 18a9le for No 1 in store, and 18c for rejected. Ryc quiet and steady at 50c in stere. Barley neglected Timothy seed was quite active, and the nurket advanced 5c-sales varying from 2,75a2,80 for good to choice, and 2,65 for dirty. Highwines steady at 18}40 for city.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merite. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but five equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brocklyn—scentries that have not. for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are avery way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable. In times of pante, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And white there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-stided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsurs their cutstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four these, needed for the refinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Folicies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less cares than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a continty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

Death in a School Room.

A SKETCH FROM LIFE.

Ting-a-ling-ling! went the bell on the teacher's desk of a village school room, one morning, when the studies of the earlier part of the day were about half completed. It was well understood that this was the command for silence and attention; and when these were obtained, the master spoke. He was a low, thick set man, and his name Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad. when these were obtained, the master spoke.

was Lugare.

"Boys," said he, "I have a complaint entered. Last night some of you were stealing fruit from Mr. Nichols' garden. I rather think I know the thief. "Tim Baker,

step up here, sir.'
The one to whom he spoke came forward.
He was a slight, fair looking boy, about fourteen, and his face had a kughing, good humored expression, which even the charge now preferred against him, and the stern tone and threatening look of the teacher had not entirely dissipated. The countenance of the boy, however, was too unearth-ly fair for health. It had, notwithstanding its fleshy, cheerful look, a singular cast, as if some inward disease, and that a fearful one, were settled within.

"Were you in Mr. Nichols' garden last night?" asked Lugare. "Yes, sir," answered the boy, "I was." "Well, sir, I'm glad to find you so ready with your confession. And so you thought you could do a little robbing, and enjoy yourself in a mauner you ought to be ashamed to own, without being punished, did you?" "I have not been robbing," replied the boy quickly. His face was suffused, whether with resentment or fright, it was difficult to tell; "and I didn't do anything last night that I'm ashamed to own. "No impudence," exclamed the teacher passionately, as he grasped a long and heavy rattan: " give me none of your smart speeches, or I'll thrash you till you beg like a dog."

The youngster's face paled a little, his lip quivered, but he did not speak, "And pray, sir," continued Lugare, as the outward signs of wrath disappeared

"O yes, that's very likely," and Mr. Lu-gare bulged out nose and cheek with con-tempt. "Do you think to make me believe your lies? I've found you out, sir, plainly enough, and I am satisfied that you are as precious a villain as there is in the state. But I will postpone settling with you for an hour. I shall then coll you up again, and if you don't tell me the truth then, I will give you something that will make you remember Mr. Nichols' melons for many a month to come." Glad enough of the gracious permission, and answering not a word, the child crept tremblingly to his bench. He felt strangely, dizzily—more as if he were in a dream than in real life, and laying his arm on the desk, bowed down his face between them. The pupils turned to their accustomed studies, for during the reign of Lugare in the village school they had been so used to virlence and severe chastisement, that such things made but little interruption in the tenor of their way.

Now, while the intervening hour is passing, we will clear up this mystery of the bag, and of young Baker being under the garden fence the preceding evening.
The boy's mother was a widow, and they both had to live in the very narrowest limits. His father had died when he was six years old, and little Tim was left a sickly, emaciated infant, whom no one expected to live many months. To the surprise of all. however, the poor child kept alive, and seemed to recover his strength, as he cer-tainly did his size and good looks. This was owing to the kind offices of an eminent physician who had a country seat in the neighborhood, and who had been in-terested in the widow's little family. Tim, the physician said, might outgrow his disease, but everything was uncertain. It was a mysterious and baffling malady, and it would not be wonderful if he should, in some moment of apparent good health, lesuddenly taken away. The poor widew was in a continual strife of uneasiness, but several years had now clapsed, and none of the impending cylls had fallen on the boy's head. His mother seemed to feel confident that he would live and be a shield and honor to her old age. The two struggled on together, mutually happy in each other, and enduring much of poverty and discomfort, each for the other's sake, rod to the nature and degree of the exposure of the building as regards lightning, is absolutely essential to its efficacy.

DANGER OF IMPERFECT LIGHTNING RODS. -A writer in the New York Post, after describing the effects of the lightning during a recent thunder-storm, makes some very sensible suggestions:

In our occasional trips to the various suburbs of the city, we have observed hundreds of buildings with lightning rods, which, in In Owen county, a man eighty years of our judgment, render them less secure than age married, as his third or fourth successive wife, a girl of about seventeen summers, girl of about seventeen summers. insulators and patent points, and patently painted, sold by means of certificates and recommendations, as a specific against lightning, just like the quack medicines which heal all diseases.

The services of an "expert mechanic" may be very properly and usefully employed in the erection of the rods, but the decision as to their mode of construction and location upon the building demands, in the highest degree, the exercise of the soundest scientific judgment and experience. mistake in this particular increases the danger, as the frequent failures of lightning rods fully demonstrate.

Lightning rods should be examined every season so as to detect and remedy any defects which time may have rendered apparent. They should be kept free from paint. and if any alteration or addition to the building is made, they should be examined by a competent person to decide whether they require adjustment to conform to the sltered condition of the building.

If the lightning rod is correctly applied in the first place, and kept in order, it may be implicitly relied upon as a complete safe guard from lightning.

SECOND DISTRICT.

A Republican Convention for the Second Congression al District in the State of Wisconsin, will be holden at the city of La Crosse, on Wednesday the 22d day of August, 1860, at 12 o'clock M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for member of Congress of said disrrict, to be supported at the next general election. Each assembly district will be entitled to two delegates in said convention. The several assembly district committees are requestto take measures for the appointment of delegates to said congressional convention, from their respective districts. DAVID ATWOOD, CHARLES HOLT, NORMAN EASTMAN, J. C. CHANDLER, Madison, June 23, 1850. Dist. Com.

GREAT DOUGLAS DEMONSTRATION !-- Today was to have been a great day for the was to be shown, and the enthusiasm for its "squatter" leader manifested. For sevadvertised at Monroe, and a special train engaged, at half fare, to carry out the detraveler might have been seen wending his way slowly to the" depot, and as time progressed, accessions were made to the lonely wayfarer. At half-past 9 o'clock, (the train for Mouroe having been advertised to start at 8.45) the Madison train came steaming in with two passenger cars and four passengers; of these four, three were from Milton, and of these three, two were the postmasters in that town, and one had availed himself of the half-fare rate to visit Monroe on business. The other was an eastern passenger.

Thirteen persons, we are informed, had previously collected here, from abroad, to attend the meeting, including several speakpacity of reporter for the Milwankee News. from the wreck. A part of these left last night, and the rest helped to swell the crowd this morning. In addition to these sixteen individuals.

we are told by a gentleman who made the count as the immense crowd entered the cars, that 25 residents of Janesville started for Monroe, making a grand total of fortyone for the great demonstration. In these twenty-five were several minors, and some adults who combined a business trip with their political pilgrimage. Ten passenger equally distributed, would have given four and one tenth person to each car. Among the delegation we noticed Judge Crawford of Mineral Point, Joshua Ladue of Milwankee, A. F. Pratt of Wankesha, Wm. L. Mitchell, Isaac Woodle and James Neil of this city, whom, on general principles, we assign as speakers to the meeting. Jerry Moriarty was doing better than an auction business in "selling" the crowd Lincoln and Hamlin medals. Among his victims was one of the " Cheerable Brothers," (Michael McKey,) who was unconsciously sporting in a button hole of his vest a republican emblem, and Judge Crawford had a ustrow escapa.

A personal friends, we wish these excursionists a pleasant trip, and hope ample accommodations have been made for their reception and entertainment. Judging from the indications we have noticed, the meeting has been an eminent success!

WIDE AWAKES .- There will be a meeting of the Wide Awakes at the Court Room this evening, for drill. We trust there will be a general attendance.

We desire to speak a word of encouragement to our Wide-Awake company. We saw several thousand Wide-Awakes at Springfield, and no company was superior to ours in any respect, while very few of them were equal in drill and the precision of their movements on parade. We have towards the close rallied slightly, and closed firm, with the best company in the state now, and we considerable inquiry by speculators. Sales amount to can easily have the best in the northwest if about 125,000 bushels at 85097 1/2 for No 1 spring, 80a F. 1010 F. Store: we tig.

THE HARVEST is ended, and the crops have been secured in excellent order. The threshing machines have commenced their work. In nearly every instance, so far as we have heard, the yield is greater than expected. We hear of instances of 25, 30 and even 40 bushels to the acre. There is scarcely a doubt that Rock county has raised this year 2,000,000 bushels of wheat.

The wheat in the vicinity of Eagle, Waukesha county, is yielding much better than was most favorably anticipated. One field of 12 acres (club) yielded 340 bushels, being 231 bushels to the acre. Another field of fyfe yielded 25 bushels. Still another field of 14 acres, in the town of Troy. vielded 532 bushels, averaging 38 bushels to the acre. Oats are yielding 50 and 60 bushels to the acre. So says a correspondent of the Wisconsin.

Archbishop Hughes announces the costation of work on the new cathedral, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Fiftieth street, New York, on account of a lack of funds,

A Rhode Island paper speaking of the diminutive stature of Douglas, says the "people like him in spite of his physic"

(physique.) Five negroes are counted in the south as equal to three white men in apportioning members of congress. If slaves are nothing but property, why should not the herses and cattle of the north be counted also? It is because the constitution gives this advantage to the property of the south. It is represented while ours is not. Is it good policy to encourage the spread of this kind of property over new territories?

There will probably be a great Wide Awake tournament at Chicago before the campaign closes. Such a gathering from the northwest would be a grand display and would be worth a long journey to witness.

ATTENTION Wide Awakesi

There will be a meeting of the Wide Awakes this evening, for special business and drill. Let every member appear in full past seven.

A. B. McLEAN, Captain. J. C. Underwood, Esq., the pioneer of republicanism in Virginia, is in Chicago, in behalf of the republican national committee, making arrangements for the circulation of effective campaign documents. It is reported that there is trouble about the accounts of Jacob Forney, late superin-tendent of Indian affairs. It has not yet transpired whether or not he will turn out a defaulter. A good many of Buchanau's office holders turn out mean fellows, if not all defaulters. The most signal turn-out of Ith of March next.

THOSE PROPHETS OF OLD .- How rich the Douglas democracy of Janesville—a day in following paragraph appears, which was which the invincible strength of the party originally printed in the English Quarterly Review, in March, 1825:

· We are not advocates for visionary pro its "squatter" leader manifested. For several days a great mass meeting has been ments. We scout the idea of a railroad as advertised at Monroe, and a special train impracticable! What can be more palpably absurd and ridiculous than the prospect mecracy of the state to make a demonstra fast as stage coaches? We should as soon tion on the republican citadel of "little expect the people of Woolwich to suffer Green." Soon after 7 o'clock "a solitary themselves to be fired off upon one of congreve's ricochet rockets, as to put themselves at the mercy of such a machine, going at such a rate.

Diving is still going on near the wreck of the steamer Hungarian, off Cape Sable. On a recent day the grapple brought up a part of one of the steamer's boats, wound around with broadcloths, silks, ginghams, calicoes, and other textile fabrics, estimated to weigh ten tons. Upon taking this snarl apart, the corpse of a lady was found, supposed from her dress to be a cabin passenger. Some of her hair remained, and several pieces of clothing covered her remains, but nothing was found to give the least clue to her name. She was buried near the church on the island. The reports of fortunes made in securing goods from the Hungarian are exaggerated. ears, and A. F. Pratt, we suppose in the ca. penses of operation are large, and all the goods are in deep water, at a great distance

Life Insurance.

Those desiring this safest and cheapest protection for their families, can secure it in our Wisconsin company. It has already become, in reality, a state institution, having agents and patrons among the best business men in all the principal towns in the state. It is no longer a matter of doubt that life insurance can be conducted a well in Wisconsin as in Connecticut or any other eastern

While duty demands that men should insure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Confident that our success has been more than equal to that of the most "unprecedent cars left the depot, and the delegation, if od," we would contially invite all our citizens to call at the office, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, and examine for themselves.

S. S. DAGGETT, President. A. W. KELLOGG, Secretary. e.g., Mesers, Pixley & Harlow, produce dadlers, and Capt. Geo. S.
